Annapolis, MD. – October 1, 2012 – C.W. Hood Yachts is pleased to announce that a CW Hood 32 Daysailer will be available for demonstration sails at the Annapolis Sailboat Show, October 4th – 8th, Annapolis Maryland.

“We are delighted to have one of our CW Hood 32’s available for demonstration sails ”, says Chris Hood, founder of CW Hood Yachts. “The 32’ represents a very comfortable sailing experience. We are pleased to introduce sailing to attendees that are thinking about sailing but have never sailed before. We had a great time taking people out for a sail at the Newport Show as part of Sail America’s, Discover Sailing program. We were fortunate to be able to have two boats at these shows so that one can be used to take anyone who wants to for a short sail around the harbor”.

The CW Hood 32-foot Daysailer’s unique design features a large, open cockpit with comfortable bench seating. Single handers will find everything within easy reach while still providing plenty of room for guests or a team of crewmembers racing around the buoys.

“The 32’ is a very easy boat to sail while offering modern day responsiveness that is unequal to anything on the water, today”, stated Hood. “A short sail always brings positive comments of what a comfortable boat the 32’ is to sail while feeling the quick performance of the boat’s design. This is a good opportunity to demonstrate to those who are interested in learning how to sail that this type of design is both very easy to sail and comfortable in all conditions”.

“We think this program is a perfect addition to the show,” stated Hood.” It allows people to actually experience something more than just walking the docks and we are pleased to be able to provide the opportunity”
